JOIN THE FRIENDS
 OF VCU
LIBRARIES

Join us in supporting student success and community transformation!

We help everyone

1 million+ visitors annually – and growing.

1.5 million+ web page views.

Of VCU's 28,000 students and 5,500 faculty, 42% use VCU Libraries in person and 62% do so online every week.

We support students

The Friends give scholarships to students on both campuses and StudyWell programs enhance students' wellbeing.

We engage our community

Book and author events, lectures, community conversations and other sessions provide rich opportunities for lifelong learning and connection. The Friends make these events free and open to all.

“Free textbooks would mean financial freedom. Coming from out of state and planning on med school, I know how difficult it is to budget.” - Angelina Snow, Class of 2025

We reduce textbook costs and student debt

Ask any student what difference it would make if textbooks were free and you hear the same answer: Huge.

The Affordable Course Content Initiative makes that difference. It supports faculty who identify, customize and create free alternatives to expensive course materials. In the past five years, the initiative has saved VCU students $7.2 million and impacted more than 77,000 students.

Author Colson Whitehead speaking with guest.

“Not only do Friends get borrowing privileges, and help every student at VCU, our donors join an active community of people who care.”
Alumna Stephanie Holt, longtime libraries supporter and board activist and two-term chair
